

1 little mistake:

The cabinet was a stalker at this point. Following my every move, even in the shower. "Wait, there is a start to everything, and an end." "So how did it start?" I asked. I got up from my seat to get off the bus when suddenly, I remembered how it had happened! "Yes!!!" I exclaimed as I asked the teacher for help on an assignment. At lunch 45 minutes later, I saw Olivia and Carson sitting at lunch together and I was sitting at my friend group thinking up this exact story. No, there is no plot twist but, there is a story. I may have forgotten about this one. My dad and I had made a cabinet when I was 6 and had left it overnight. But it was in France so we had left it a couple days there but suddenly, we had heard on the news about a nuclear bomb that had exploded a couple blocks away from the cabinet shop. I was devastated, and I had worked so hard on it as well! But soon aka right now, I started hating them for stalking me.

2 smol problems:

The only way I could fix it was to find a way to get the radiation to stop and at that point, I had two small problems. One was, how am I going to get the radiation out of our cabinet in the first place? Well, like I said there were two problems. I had limited resources to choose from, my school supplies could not help me nor could my friends but nor did I realize that I had a bigger issue appearing days later. Although the radiation hadn't done much damage, that would be determined in the future when the radiation would either settle down or grow larger depending on the current conditions but there is going to be time to focus on that later.

3: RILEY?! The second plot twist

While I was pondering about the situation the next day, Riley had come over to sit with us. He had a very guilty expression on his face, and when he noticed me staring he looked away. Something (not collin) told me that he was up to something and I had to figure it out. I had started to notice something... off about the way he had been acting to SPECIFICALLY our friend group. Our friend group consists of Laney, Danielle, Ava, and me! Oh! I forgot to introduce myself, my name is McKenna.- "We have an important announcement. A tornado is going to hit the school in 5 minutes. This is not a drill." Wait a minute, I can destroy the cabinet with the tornado once it hits! The problem is I would need to sacrifice myself in order to do that, then I got an idea. Riley could help me get rid of this cabinet and all I had to do was think fast about the way I could do this without endangering anyone. Once we had got into position it executed itself by Riley and I secretly sticking a device that prevents the cabinet from moving. Once it was in front of the tornado, everyone saw what was happening. It somehow managed to jump out of the way and disappear, but I was on the other side so I thought maybe it disappeared but I was wrong.

4:Badboyhalo at vidcon?!

Whilst all this was happening I was growing an online community on Reddit and YouTube and I was known as McKenna Halo. I had a decent amount of followers and subscribers and to add on, I was going to be at the most recent vidcon in a couple days! But the thing was... what to wear? While I was thinking about it I went to a place called "bread pitt" to buy some bread and despite the name, it was delicious! As I got that, I had a thought... what if I just used my badboyhalo merch as an outfit, and it wasn't a bad idea especially once I got there. When I did and happened to look over from the stand that I was at and saw BadBoyHalo! I looked over and waved, and he waved back and it made my day a whole lot better. The rest of the day went by in a blur after that and then I was picked up by a taxi and driven home. Once I was home, I started recording a video until suddenly, "WHAM!" My door suddenly opened and my brother came out from behind it. But behind him was our dog maximum and don't think were referring to a certain meme because were not... or are we?! Anyways I had to hide my camera first and make up some excuse, and what did my dog sniff out? THE CAMERA!

5:Home...?

Though at home, things were good. As usual Mom and Dad bombarded me with questions and my little brother came and hugged me. Along with my shiba inu! As long as I am safe- and then I heard it. A voice coming from nowhere and everywhere at the same time. As I listened in, I froze. "You thought you could get rid of me?! I was just a normal cabinet, no voice, no personality. Now I will no longer be treated like some storage unit, I will destroy humanity and replace the human population with cabinets!!" I looked up in horror as the very cabinet that I had built years ago decimated my home. As it exploded something fell into my hand, my limited edition BadBoyHalo figurine! As it fell right into my hand, I saw it was burned and slightly melted from the fire. I had enough.
