

HEY Y'ALL!

How are you guys? SOOOO I am so so so grateful to all of you that have commented on and supported Game of Life and the creation of the second book! HOWEVER the second Game of Life was getting a little tedious in the writing process and I just wasn't enjoying it as much. To all of those who have been following and reading along, I am so sorry that series has come to a pause. BUT don't worry, because I'm not stopping writing... (:

Something new is coming! So, here's the cover for the book I'm starting, Behind Silent Gates. I so look forward to writing this book with y'all and I hope you have the best time reading it! I'll release the first chapter as soon as I finish writing it!

- Clara ❤️
