*How did it feel
Hearing the news
How did it feel
The realisation
How did it feel
To collapse on the ground, but hearing no sound
How did it feel
Your face turning pale,
your eyes filling with tears
It happened, the thing you most feared
How did it feel
Starting to sweat, gasping for air
How did it feel
When your hands started shaking, your throat terribly aching
How did it feel
That knife in your hand
Still clean as a daisy, no drop of red
How did it feel
The stab in your heart,
the blood splatters on your dress, almost looking like art
How did it feel
To take your last breath
Sink in silence forever
And I can no longer ask how it felt*
