

I literally can not! So basically I have a jewelry business with my friend and I noticed that a lot of people wanted to get bracelets for the Taylor swift concert so I decided to sell them. We wanted to sell each one cheap because we know that people like to buy them in bulks. So we were thinking 3 or 4 dollars. Then my mom comes and says that she thinks we should sell them for $2. Uhh! But of course at the time me and my friends agree. So everything is turning out fine and we make about 1 of each of the 16 different bracelets. Orders start pouring in! We literally have like 10 orders and people are asking for like 20 bracelets. Huhhh! I just posted this! We are trying to keep up with all the orders but it's hard. These 2 ladies wants 20 bracelets and I only have 14! 14 out of 40 by tomorrow! How am I going to do this!

