

So uh after I stopped posting on here, I got diagnosed with major depression and got admitted to a "hospital" for sad people twice. I tried to take my life three times and I have multiple sh marks. You guys make me happy so yeah. I have support from my science teacher whom I love dearly and desperately. I got CPS called on me twice and I got my home iPad and phone taken away from me sending no-no's to men for mula. Might have to take this down to not get banned so yeah. Life is going 📉
