hey guys! it's me. (obviously) so I'm starting this thing where every week i am going to post a blog cause i have nothing to do. basically I'm going to be giving a weekly life update! So here we go! first off i want to thank all of my followers for supporting my junk that i do! (Lol) this week was tiring. So i was sick for 2 days last week and i missed a quiz and a test! I had to take those this week plus i had 3 projects due and a test and another 2 quizzes! If you are in my grade/class, you understand. this week seemed even longer because it was the week before a break. like this if you get me... 😞 but now its break and currently, both of my sisters are leaving with my grandfather for the week! I'll be leaving with my little brother later in the week though. Anyways I am doing this weekly brother and sister night with my little brother so gtg!
