

Ok this is the case on @neoszombiegutz.

(I am not discriminating or bullying anyone don't cancel me)

Some of the notes I've looked up are either close copies that seem to be VERY similar or kinda similar, only that neo changed a few things. And some notes are EXACT matches. Perhaps they took inspiration for some? But the exact matches can't be explained. I will break these up separately so that this isn't one giant paragraph.

Here's what I found:

1. Your post titled: Fat little 5th grader. Original artist: A Pinterest user who's username starts with "Deuts"
2. Your note titled: ERM ACTUALLY. Original artist: Multiple sources have been found. These are the sources: Pinterest, TikTok, YouTube, X (Formerly Twitter). This might have been a joke and everyone knew you traced it but you should have gave credit anyways.
3. Your note titled: RAHHH. Original artist: Multiple sources have been found. These are the sources: Redbubble and X (Formerly Twitter).
4. Your note titled: SIGMA RIZZLER!! Original artist: A user on Pinterest. The original Pinterest post is titled: Sasaki to Miyano.
5. Your note titled NEOS BROTHAAA. Original artist: Multiple sources have been found. These are the sources: Tumblr and TikTok. These aren't exact matches but you did not originally make this character. You saw this character and decided to copy it, just in a different position.
6. Your note titled: The only thing I wanted to draw today :p . Original artist: Cover from a song or artist on Spotify called "Piika".
7. There were 3 drawings that came up as "Afton Family" or something but that might hack been a technological glitch. So I'm letting you go on that one. I just wanted to list it here because 7 is my second favorite number, right next to 3.

That's all that I found so far. If anyone would like me to, I could look for more that you're skeptical about. I want to clarify that this wasn't originally my intention, but a anonymous user asked me to check you @neoszombiegutz. I understand that some of your drawings are your own and that's why I'm still following you. I'm sure there's maybe more you stole/"took inspiration of" but I don't feel like looking. I spent over and hour looking through all 7 of these accusations already and it's late at the time of me typing this. If you do take inspiration from art, please or AT LEAST, tell everyone in your description that you took inspiration from an original artist.

But overall, I see no fit with sending every single user to ban you or something like @cutie_xoxo so just please go to the notes that you stole/called your own even though their not yours originally, and give credit.

Thanks!
