

If you were a teacher, what'd you do?

If the oranges are orange, and the color orange is orange, how many oranges are in the world?

The earth is mostly water. But there is plenty of land. What is wrong with the earth?

People are people, but aliens are aliens, what makes "alien humans?"

Why are people called Human Beans, but why are we skinned, and not small (some) like beans?

If the sky is greyish in the morning, , and the sky black at night, how the heck does the sky become blue in the afternoon?

