I think I've figured out how to post without needing to be reviewed!
All you have to do is post your note without the description or any hashtags.
You can add the description or hashtags after you post the note by pressing the three dots and clicking "edit"
Although this trick doesn't work if your note contains pictures it works with everything else!