

I SLAYED TODAY!!! 5 EPIC SAVES AND A PERFECT HALF!!!! My coach was actually impressed which doesn't happen often and the whole team was actually chanting for me!!!!

but on one of the first saves I made I had to swat the ball down bc it was too high for me to catch (perks of being a short goalie huh?) and the ball went farther away from me then it should've and there was a striker abt to score so I dive for it and, first of all, I trucked this girl and was very proud of it, second of all got this wicked bruise bc of it lol. dont worry I'm fine and iceing it but its swollen and is gonna be a nasty bruise tmr. Anyway, just wanted to let yall know how it went. (also, i have super secret suprise for yall heheh)

the circles are the points where u can see where her cleat spikes stepped on me my new scar lol
