

Hello! I'm sorry but I'm leaving, I have been told by three friends of mine that my art is trash, i should give up, and i'll never get better.

Unless someone can convince me to stay, I am leaving, love you all!

If those are your friends then they are trash friends because your art is probably better than theirs! You are a nice person and don't let your friends tell you otherwise and if they do tell them they are being absolute jerks. And you shouldn't have to be their friend if they are like that towards you.

Your art is amazing don't let your "friends" tell you it's not friends are suppose to encourage not bring down.
