

Here's a fact about Slade (my oc)

he actually has purple eyes and he can take the black line off but while it's off in the blink of an eye he can disintegrate anything in his field of vision using a thing I like to call deathning view but it DRAINS him of ALOT of energy and leaves him weak and open for a short time

The time it takes for the deathning view to disintegrate everything he's looking at is the time it takes to blink

When close or near him when he does it for you it looks like you've been flashbanged and you go death (can't hear) for about 3 seconds and you can't see the beam because there is none everthing just KABOOMS. FIN
