

hey tributes

so the reaping day stories are finished! I hope you enjoyed the tales of Orchid, Mackenzie, Kylie and Carper <3 next up is a story on a bullet train from the districts to the capitol, and then some training!

but after that will be some interviews! I'll be interviewing your characters, but if you want to take a more personal approach, then feel free to write your own interview or answer some of the questions below!

Just remix this note and choose some to answer, or add your own questions!

no due date but the sooner the better ;)

Carper Conch – District 4

• How are you feeling about being here tonight?

Carper: Well...um...rubs his hands together not great sir. I've never been much of a crowds person, much less a tribute.

• Tell us a bit about yourself and your life back in District 4?

Carper: Well I um...I have a sister and um I catch a lot of fish and like to swim in the lagoons around my house. Not much else to it.

• What strengths do you bring to the games?

Carper: I know a lot of people think I'm a favorite for some reason. Probably because of my size. Thats what I've got going for me right now. I'm just hoping its a watery arena this year, I doubt many others here can swim. nervous chuckle

• Any special skills you have, or have been working on in training?

Carper: Just swimming and fishing. I can make some good nets though so I guess I could stop a few tributes that way um... yea thats really it I didn't think I'd get reaped so..

• How have your mentors been preparing you for the arena?

Carper: Yeah a little bit. its hard when you only have a little bit of time with them. Honestly my sister would love coaching me, she'd probably have me doing hundreds of pushups right now instead of wearing whatever the heck this outfit is

• What or who are you fighting for in the games?

Carper: My sister is really all I have back home to fight for. She needs me more than anyone else does so I have to be big brother and win for her. She told me before I left that the jellyfish said I'd win nervous but sad chuckle

• Is there anyone back home you'd like to send a message to?

Carper: looks at the camera I'm gonna win for you Ella, and then we can have all the sweets you want when I get home

• How are you finding the Capitol and its people? Any surprises or favorite moments so far?

Carper: Everythings certainly...colorful. Everyone here seems really nice and all that but I think my favorite might be when one of them handed me a glass of some sort of popping drink and I was NOT prepared. laughs a little

• What do you think of life in the Capitol compared to your home life?

Carper: Very different for sure. I miss the ocean and the smell of salt in the air but I definitely don't miss my bed back home, its like sleeping on a cloud here

• Have you considered any alliances with other tributes?

Carper: I don't know, maybe? Everyones gonna eventaully have to.. you know..kill each other so it doesn't make a ton of sense in my mind.

- Who do you see as your biggest competition among the other tributes?

Carper: Um well I don't really know any of them at all so...

- How do you plan to handle the challenges and dangers of the arena?

Carper: Not sure on that either but like my sister says 'We'll cross that jellyfish bridge when we come to it'

- What are your thoughts as the games come closer and closer?

Carper: Honestly I know a ton of people are stressing out right now but I'm actually super chill right now. But I know its just the calm before the storm

- Any final words for the audience and potential sponsors watching tonight?

Carper: um I guess cheer for me? Sorry I really don't know what else to say. I'm very grateful to any sponsers or people who think about sponsering me, its just helping me get back to my little sister faster.

- What legacy do you hope to leave behind?

Carper: Legacy? um...well uh...I really can't think of something super flashy or cool off the top of my head, just that its a victory in district 4 and I get to go back and take care of my sister
