

I wanna vent a little, so um so there's this guy, his nickname strawberry, and he called my friend hot, but idk if he's lgbtq and last year, I told him I liked him, but he never said anything... and I'm falling for him, but I'm just scared to love again, and when I got his number from a friend, and I called him my friend and I just realized I friend-zoned him, so I hate myself so, so bad, so that's all I have to say, and strawberry, if you're reading this I really had fun with you last year, and I hope we can talk.
