

Okay people just wth???

I'm not very long on notability and I don't want to share my political opinions or anything that is personal okay. And I'm also impartial here. I wanted to stay out of this, but this goes too far! I don't give a 🙄 about anyone's opinion or anything else but I just see that u are all just RUDEEEEEEE. Like huhhh?? Psycho, job, Duolingo idk who, I lost track, u are all just so mean and I get that u are upset and idk what, but this is not a place to talk about that. I mean u don't even know each other in the most cases. It's just so childish and I don't mean anyone particular now, in the last few months there were soo many discussions with all kinds of people. Some bigger some smaller. And I just can't see it anymore. I and a lot of other people just came here to look at art and make art and I get that some people feel better when they do vent notes with personal stuff but at least keep it nice. And I'm not hating on anyone rn okay. Sometimes it's very interesting to see how live is for other ppl rn. But if you post stuff with personal info at least expect that u get at least a few weird or rude comments bc they find something to complain about and then, guess what, just ignore it! U know (I don't mean someone specific or even someone on notability) u can get a hate comment, and just live on. U know that is doable right.

Anyway sry I really don't mean anybody specific, okay

It's just it sucks soooooo much that people are soo rude and I'm just sad. And honestly no wonder the gallery has been very empty lately when stuff like this happened so often.

Don't worry I'm still here but I have artblock

And sry, I usually don't do posts like this, I'm not so good at stuff like this.

And please plsplsplsplspls plsssss don't hate on me or anyone that likes my art or whatever, this is an overall opinion on the situation not just on notability, on the whole internet rn.

And I don't care who u are or what u do, just have good day!!!

Also I will try to post more art.
