

Alch: he's a simple man wanting nothing more than to be the greatest scientist out there. His hero costume is literally just the U.A suit, combined with leather and other sturdy materials.

Quirk Alchemist: Anything he touches with one hand and he touches something else with his other hand combined together to make something new.

He has to wear gloves to stop this from happening. He also has a lot of knowledge on using chemistry and anything alchemist related.