

Hello all! So I finally finished the school year yesterday! (yaaaaay) and I passed all my classes! So first off, I'm extending the duration of the contest until the 20th of this month. This is because I'm actually really busy right now to start judging, im (hopefully i think?) going to a pride parade this weekend and then going on a trip to... a place, starting on the monday right after and i wont be back until thursday? wednesday? I don't actually know lol so i should get started packing like tomorrow. I still dont know what the prizes will be but there will be some please trust me. While im there other than liking posts i wont be that active, im actually going to try to not be on my phone that much really. (except for when firefly comes out im gonna pull for her but that's it). Uhh so yea... uhm oh right anhane! yes im still trying to work on that but it'll come after my trip!
