It's funny because the tongue-twister "she sells seashells by the seashore" is a metaphorical question, but of course I'll answer it literally anyway.