

Guys I miss my crush so freaking bad! So like I am now on thanksgiving break which I was like really excited about but like I really miss my crush, anyway literally no one emails each other anymore but like I dont have my crushes number so like what other choice do I have? Anyway I emailed him and said "I do like you." Because today during class he Said that any girl would pass out if they had saw his abs but then his friend says "not (my name) she doesn't want you (my crushes name)." And I was really embarrassed cause he said that infront of the whole class 🦴 but like deep down I'm like begging for him 😭 then he like kept saying my name trying to get me to look at him but like I didn't cause I was embarrassed like I could feel my face getting hot and everybody was staring and laughing I didn't say anything and tried not to look but I really wanted to and I wish I had 😔 but like I don't think my crush ever checks his emails so I finally remembered his friends last name but just for conformation I asked if it was him still waiting for a response from both 🦴 🙌 wish me luck 🙏
