

Would anyone mind if I slipped into inactivity? I'm more active on Wattpad now, and I've made friends there. Does anyone really want me to stay? I don't post good art, I'm not even good at critiquing other people's art. Although, lemme say, some of y'all are epic at this.

And before you ask, no, nothing anyone said brought this on. You are all great people, and ily.

But seriously. Should I stay?
