

So, I recently got into drawing portraits (check my Note "the elderly artist" to see an example of my work), and I was wondering if anyone on Notability would like their portraits drawn?

Obviously, I'd need to see a picture of you, which I'm aware some people aren't comfortable with, and if you are one of those people, sorry. There's no other way I can do a portrait of you.

But to those who are still interested, make your Profile Picture a photo of your face, copy this note (make sure you are copying the original!) and tag me in the description.

I'll begin work on your portrait, and when I start, I'll let you know so that you can change your profile picture back.

When I'm done, I'll upload the finished portrait. If you want it taken down at any point, just say so in the comments, and I'll do it as soon as I can.

Let me just say that it is completely all right if you don't want to do this. Personally I wouldn't be comfortable sharing a picture of my face, and I totally understand if you choose not to do this.

But I'm looking forward to drawing some portraits of those who are interested!
