

"The Shadow Lady"

The Shadow Lady wants you to be alone. She watches you. She takes things that make you happy—toys, little things, and even people sometimes. Everything she touches becomes sad. A fence, a flower, a rock, or even a person feel sad and cold and alone. Her hands are so big so she can carry all the things she takes. She especially likes buttons. She will follow you and wait for you to be alone and she will stand and watch you so you know you're alone. You can't escape her because she's in every shadow. The only way to be safe is to be not alone, but even then she will still try to make you lonely.
