A large grid of 15 columns and 20 rows of empty rectangular boxes, resembling a brick wall pattern, intended for a writing exercise. The boxes are arranged in alternating horizontal rows, with each row offset by half a column from the previous one. The entire grid is contained within a light gray rectangular frame.A large grid of graph paper with a dashed horizontal line across the middle. The grid is composed of small squares, and the dashed line runs horizontally through the center of the page.
