[illegible]

This image shows a sheet of handwriting practice paper. It features four identical sets of horizontal lines arranged vertically. Each set is composed of three lines: a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. These lines are designed to help learners practice consistent letter formation and alignment. The paper is otherwise blank, with no text or other markings.

Handwriting practice sheet for the letter 'i'. The sheet contains ten rows of three horizontal lines (top, middle dashed, and bottom). The first row is pre-filled with a dotted lowercase 'i' on the left, followed by a vertical line and a dotted lowercase 'i' on the middle dashed line. The remaining nine rows are identical in structure but empty for practice.
